Vogue 316, LLC

Artist Vogue Robinson works in poetry and paint to express herself. She is a Black Abstract Artist finding stillness in grief and acceptance through movement. Her practice is an experiment in patience, gravity, and kinetic energy. At first, this art form was a way to stay connected to her late Gramma, Martina Pearl. Now, she wants every piece to be a gift and an exercise of gratitude.

Robinson provides her collectors with 2 thank you cards along with a Certificate of Gratitude. She encourages people to write a thank you note to themselves and someone they love, then mail it out! Robinson says, "Life is hard, we should thank ourselves for making it this far!"

Cami Candles LLC

This company was started from a desire to create a candle that truly filled my home with its long-lasting scent. What began as a hobby, quickly grew into something greater as Cami Candles was featured at many pop-up shops all over Maryland and Philadelphia. Growing up in the islands I was exposed to many different fruits that gave off amazing scent and I wanted my candles to capture those fragrances.

Reminiscent Luxe Candles

Cleaning and music have always gone hand-and-hand in my household. Because 90's music is my love language, my candles are named after songs that make me reminisce on Saturdays, cleaning up, when I was growing up. By adding a playlist to each of my candles, my goal is to ignite a mood/vibe that pairs well with the scent of every candle.
